More than a locker . . . a reflection of an individual

No matter how or when a student arrives at school, the locker is the first stop: to stuff coats, stare in a mirror to make last-minute adjustments, hide a forbidden-in-the-halls McDonald's coke, or to grab a neglected assignment to be scribbled out in homeroom. More than just a closet or bookshelf, lockers are a reflection of an individual, not just a student. In the little space provided, personality can be shown through pictures, stickers, posters, drawings, stuffed animals, wrapping paper, or anything else the imagination can find or create.

Whether students are college or job bound after graduation, Clinton High School offers a variety of classes for either choice.

Many college-prep courses are available: English Literature, Calculus, Chemistry II, Math IV, and Physics are a few.

There are just as many vocational and business classes too: Accounting, Auto Mechanics, Data Processing, Metals, Welding, Electrical Wiring, Woods, and many more.

Some classes are offered mainly for the students' enjoyment or development: Band, Best Sellers, Crafts, Mythology, Ticket to Outerspace, Tutoring, Foods, Clothing, Family Living, and Child Development.

Lower right: Welby Mitchell is quite the cook.

The world of Clinton covers four square miles with a population of over 8000 people. It is the DeWitt County seat and home of the controversial courthouse on the square. Clinton's main claims to fame are the Apple and Pork Festival, that brings thousands of participants and spectators each year; the Clinton Power Plant, which has brought many new members to the community; and Jake the Wonderdog, who is the TV "star" and mascot of Douglas-Oldsmobile-Pontiac-GMC Inc.

During the week much of our time is spent in school and at related activities. Some students have even started on their college credits by taking Richland Community College classes.

Weekends, though, are often spent out of town: shopping at Hickory Point, Eastland, or College Hills Mall; going out to eat or to the movies; or attending concerts in Peoria, Springfield, or Champaign. This year we rocked to Quiet Riot, The Police, Loverboy, Def Leppard, .38 Special, and ZZ Top, to name a few. Sundays are usually spent at church, with family, doing homework, or catching up on sleep.

Summer finds us at Clinton Lake boating, swimming, tanning, and partying. Many teens de-tassle, rogue, or walk beans to earn extra money. Cruising the square is always a summer night favorite: to play loud music, to show off a new or just-washed car, or to be with friends.

Welcome . . .

Although many students drive to school, most students arrive by bus. Eighteen buses make the round trip run everyday. Some 965 students ride daily; the buses travel 177,685 miles yearly.

Lower right: The Clinton fans have never let the football team down no matter what the win-loss record is.

Friends—whether they are fellow team members, rides to school, sit at the same lunch table, or have known each other since first grade, they are what make life special and school a not-so-bad place to be. Friends go to games, ride around, help with homework, talk on the phone, give encouragement and consolation, and solve problems together. Possibly even more special than a close friend is that steady guy or girl that shares the classes and weekends, troubles and fun, highs and lows, and hopes and dreams that are so typical of the teenage high school years.

for fun.

After school or in the evenings, students can be found in many places. McDonald's, Hardee's, the Shack, Dairy Queen, Pizza Hut, Monical's, Wal-Mart, the Car Wash, or the Clintonia are frequently visited, for jobs or for enjoyment and relaxing.

Some will be forgotten . . .

CAMPAIGN

Lisa Spainhour, Paulette Thomas, and Cami Lobb display a Care Bear and Cabbage Patch Kid, two fads of 1984.

Fads and interests come and go. Every year brings new favorites in entertainment, music, clothes, movies, expressions, accessories, songs, and anything and everything else. Cruising the square and partying, Def Leppard and ZZ Top, OP shirts and army fatigues, Flashdance and Footloose, "Where's the beef?" and "spare me," bandannas and teddy tails, "Thriller" and "Metal Health (Bang Your Head)," have all seen their highs in the past year. Some will be forgotten and replaced soon; others are here to stay.

Others are

Many of the buildings in Clinton are landmarks, such as the Homestead and the Courthouse. Others, like the many churches in town, are just simply beautiful buildings that all can appreciate.

WELCOME TO OUR WORLD copy
—Cami Lobb

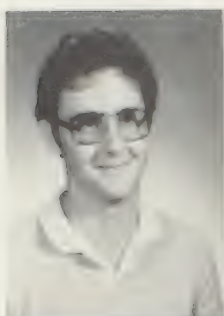

A big thrill for any teen anywhere is to get the coveted Driver's License, and Clinton teens are no exception. Sophomores and some juniors eagerly await the day they can drive away from the Facility in mom's, dad's, or their own cars. The next stop is usually to pick up a few friends and head for the square or out of town to enjoy this new-found privilege.

Homecoming 1983

Queen Beth Tucker

The traditional homecoming celebration always begins with several girls carrying petitions around in an attempt to get twenty-five signatures to qualify for the honor of becoming queen. In an assembly on September 30, twenty-nine girls sought the title. On Tuesday following the introduction of the candidates, the annual powderpuff game was held. This year the sophomore-junior girls, coached by Mr. Stearmer, Brian Cooley, and Scott Ellrick defeated the freshman-senior team. By the second assembly the twenty-nine girls had been narrowed to five.

On Friday afternoon school was dismissed early for the homecoming parade held on the square. Classes, organizations, the M squad, and the marching Band entertained parents and young people alike. Children rushed to the edge of the street to catch candy thrown by the parade entrants. That evening U-High defeated the Maroons 13-0 at the homecoming game. The team played well, but a victory was not to be. On Saturday evening two hundred students danced to the music of Haven. Beth Tucker, crowned at the football game the previous evening, was honored with a necklace; and she and members of the court danced the traditional queen's dance.

The 1983-84 school year was the first time students had the opportunity to serve on the Miss Christmas Court. Five girls were selected from each class. Dana Holt was the freshman winner. Her court included Launa Finely, Barbara Schaumburg, Shannon Taylor, and Traci Matthews. Janet Ely was the sophomore winner. Her court included Bonny Boyd, Kelly Bryant, and Kelli Koeneman. Fawn Hoke was the junior winner. Her court included Paula Junkert, Christy Chamberlain, Beth Dougherty, and Shelli Kinder. Bonnie Chapman was the senior winner. Her court included Dawn Steward, Roxann Sobolewski, Karol Thomas, and Angie Taylor.

The dance held on December 10 at the high school was a huge success, with 225 students attending. The theme of the dance was Silver Bells and the band "Forcast" originated from Clinton.

Shadows in the Moonlight

The night of May 5, 1984, was a romantic evening colored with glamour and excitement. Prom night had arrived at last. Newly polished cars filled the parking lot of St. John's, and sharply dressed couples in tuxedos and gowns entered the Parish Center. Blue and purple crepe paper adorned the ceiling over an impressive white-latticed gazebo. The theme of the prom, Shadows in the Moonlight, was indeed appropriate. With the only lights in the place shining on the band, "Second Shift," the atmosphere was indeed similar to a moonlit evening, with the couples playing the part of the shadows. John Hartness and Lorri Martin were crowned prom king and queen. Those attending the royal couple included Cliff McClure and Debbie Armstrong, Doug Owens and Karol Thomas, Rich Mandrell and Stacy Schoch, and Paul Larkin and Keri Cummings. After Prom was held at the YMCA, where many students enjoyed swimming, racquetball, basketball, eating, and even more dancing.

Top Center: The royal couple dances the traditional king and queen's dance, as members of the court look on.

The sauna singers Morrie Lockard, John Hartness, Angie Taylor, Katie Plunkett and Mark Jackson pool their talents.

At 6:00 A.M., with the last suitcase loaded and the roll taken, thirty-one seniors headed south to Osage Beach, Missouri. The early hour combined with the Monday fog made it a good morning to sleep. At mid-morning the bus stopped at Meramec Caverns. After lunch the bus continued on to the hotel, arriving around 3:00 P.M. The group enjoyed a variety of activities including a boat cruise. In the evening some swam, others played cards, and still others partied with Godzilla. Was it a coincidence that a police convention was taking place at the same hotel? Side trips included one to a Hillybilly Playground, and another to the Ozark Opry. On the third day of the trip the group got up early and drove to Six Flags. By 10:00 P.M. everyone was back in Clinton. Highlights of the trip included shaving cream battles, ice fights, sunburns, spilled pretzels, lack of privacy, no towels, and a loud singing session of the graduation song in the pool.

On November 18 and 19 the curtain rose for the fall production of M*A*S*H. Due to the crowd, the show was delayed for ten to fifteen minutes to enable chairs from the cafeteria to be brought in so that everyone could be seated. Mrs. Jones, the director, said that M*A*S*H was one of her better attended shows in several years. Tryouts were held on September 19 and 20 with the cast posted on September 23. Some of the characters were played by Doug McDonald, Matt Thomas, Katie Plunkett, and Bob Case. Others were Rob Blair, Beth Tucker, Mark Calvert, Gary Welch, Janette Foor, Kris Mitchell, Karol Thomas, Rich Mandrell, Ben Lenchner, Stacy Schoch, Paula Junkert, Kelly Punches, Mitch Conn, Jason Trent, and Eric Baughman. Mary Beth Simmons was the student director, and Kim Wilkinson was the stage manager. Mrs. Jones selected this play so it would give more students a chance to perform in a non-musical. Many of the cast members were first time actors to the stage. The cast members had fun: fun practicing, fun working with the other members, and most importantly fun actually putting on the play. This along with good publicity made M*A*S*H a great success for the cast.

Grease, featuring a 60 member cast and crew, performed to record breaking audiences this spring. On April 5, 6, and 7, the auditorium was crowded with people who came to watch the cool gangs in leather coats and girls in poodle skirts and bobby socks.

Grease by Jim Jacobs and Warren Casey is staged in the '50's at Rydell High School with energetic teenagers dancing, singing, and showing their feelings. Preparation took ten weeks of hard work and practice. In addition to the ten weeks of actor training, logistical matters had to be handled. For instance, a Ford Capri was stripped by the auto mechanics class and used on stage.

Mike Weaver of Decatur spent several weeks preparing the students for the elaborate dance numbers. Two members of the faculty, Stuart Coon and Ed Collier, held major roles in addition to those of the students. The production was directed by D. Ann Jones.

NHS cancels fall induction

The Clinton National Honor Society received its charter in December 1935 and was called the Charles Evans Chapter after the man who was high school president at that time. Student membership is gained by the number of juniors and seniors eligible through leadership, service, scholarship, and character.

Since 1935 there have been four NHS sponsors: Pauletta Full, Paul Harden, Annalee Karr, and Reta Rinkenberger.

Each year the society must do something for the community. Several projects have been done, from helping with the blood mobile to sponsoring poster contests for grade school students. NHS also must have a school project, which has always been the spring carnival. Other activities include a wide range—from the Homecoming parade to social activities.

Mary Kay Thorp congratulates Jennifer Hearon on being selected.

Mary Beth Simmons presents Mike Hampton to Mrs. Rinkenberger for NHS membership.

Toni Robison helps Renee Chapman into her robe.

In late February, the National Honor Society held a progressive dinner for its social function. The members and sponsor traveled from home to home to eat each different course. The dinner began at Mrs. Rinkenberger's with hors d'oeuvres and then progressed to Mary Beth Simmons for soup. The main course of lasagna was served at Mary Kay Thorp's house and, finally, dessert at Julie King's. All the members enjoyed the food and stuffed themselves thoroughly.

On April 13, the Society held its spring induction. Thirteen new members were selected, three seniors and ten juniors.

May 8 marked another NHS tradition with the annual Spring Fling, which was held in the gym because of the weather. Ten groups set up booths selling food, drinks, and photographs, and one raffled off tickets to win prizes.

Nine NHS members attended the annual progressive dinner held in February.

Student Council changes rules for membership

The Student Council worked hard this year, and the group made many changes. Instead of electing one person from each homeroom for the council, six representatives from each class were chosen. The representatives were given points for the work done; only those who were active participants remained on the Council. Money making activities for the year included an album raffle, a turkey raffle, morning donut sales, the Christmas dance, and the proceeds from the concession stand sales.

Secretaries emphasize fashion, style

Officers: Karen Gregory, social chairman; Debbie Tedrick, secretary; Shelly Karr, president; Angie Taylor, vice president.

The Super Secretaries' Club was organized three years ago for students interested in working in a business office. It is a fun club of 40 students, organized to emphasize fashion, grooming, and current office trend. Fashion and makeup seminars, style shows, guest speakers, shopping trips, and a Christmas Tea were planned for this school year.

Guide Club welcomes new students

Clinton High School Guide Club was formed in the fall of 1982 to welcome, to inform, and to offer guidance and support to new Clinton Community High School students.

In the fall of 1983, the CCHS Guide Club reorganized to offer an activity for those who wanted to meet regularly, share concern, and generate ideas for improving the quality of student life, and to be together. The club is to provide service to the school and to its members. Any student is welcome to join.

A CCHS Guide Club member may become a Guide by attending meetings regularly, by earning a "C" or better in each subject, by attending school regularly, by earning credit through training, and by working on committees or club sponsored events. Character, appearance, responsibility, and courteousness are stressed. Guides must secure five teachers' and fifteen students' signatures attesting to their fitness to represent Clinton Community High School.

In December the club enjoyed a field trip to the Friendship Center, where they served refreshments, talked with members, and played cards or sang with the group.

Library Club provides varied, useful services

The Library Club at Clinton High School offers an invaluable service to CHS. Faculty and students alike use the services of the library every day of the school year. Members of the Library Club are very helpful in obtaining information for the library patrons. Many materials such as magazine articles, reference materials, books, vertical file materials, microfilm, and learning kits are frequently requested and obtained for the borrower. In many other ways students help to keep the library an attractive place for others to study and read.

The art club held its 5th annual Liaison de l'arts on March 10, 1984, from 8:30-2:00. Eleven schools and over a hundred students participated in the Liaison, which seems to improve with age. Six workshops were offered: drawing with Dr. Scharfenberg from Millikin; weaving with Karen Gardner from Parkland; advertising art with Irving Feinstein from Bradley; lettering and layout by computer with Robert Munds of Clinton High School; and soft sculpture with Susan Feinberg, a student at Illinois State University.

Clinton FFA named top chapter

A highlight of the year for the Clinton FFA Chapter was being named one of the top chapters in the United States. Clinton FFA members received a National Gold Emblem award at the National FFA Convention in Kansas City. The annual award is given to approximately 100 chapters in the United States. Darren Barnhill, Jim Hunt, Brad Willard, Dave Ferguson, Dan Mills, Lance Schmid, and Mr. and Mrs. Adams attended the convention and accepted the award.

Wanda Hunt represented the chapter on a one-week trip to Washington, D.C. last summer. The trip was an award for the chapter placing first in the Section 16 Heritage Contest.

Lance Schmid attended the FFA Leadership Camp at East Bay in Bloomington, and Jim Hunt spent a week at forestry camp at West Frankfort.

The Chapter placed first in the Section 16 Activities Contest last year and has won section contests in parliamentary procedure, soils, and grain judging this year.

FHA Colors one Student Beautiful

"Color Me A Season" was one of the first major activities scheduled by the Clinton Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America for the 1983-84 school year. The FHA and the Super Secretaries Club cooperatively scheduled this seminar dealing with personal color analysis and make-up selection and application. One student from each club received a free $30 color analysis and makeover in a drawing of names. FHA's lucky winner was Kelly Shaffer. Marge Bogart from Bloomington, IL was the color analyst presenting the "Color Me A Season" program to about forty students.

Thespians produce M*A*S*H and GREASE

The Clinton Chapter of International Thespians produced two very diverse plays the 1983-84 school year. The two major productions were MASH in the fall and GREASE in the spring. Both the plays involved many people and, hopefully, interested students in becoming members of the Clinton troupe.

The Thespian officers for the year were Mary Beth Simmons, president and Kris Mitchell, secretary. The Thespian sponsor is Mrs. D. Ann Jones, who has always been very involved in the theater; this year she was in charge of all workshops at the Illinois High School Theater Festival. Eight students enjoyed this festival, which was held at Illinois State University.

To become a Thespian one must earn ten points. Each one of these ten points represents one hour of good contribution to the theater.

Do-re-mi

The Clinton High Chorus started the 1983-84 performing year in November with a tour to University High, where they sang for Olympia and University High. They performed at Christmas for two area nursing homes and at their Christmas Concert. January and February they spent preparing State Solo and Ensemble Contest numbers and putting together the Swing Choir musical numbers, routines, and costumes. By selling candles and candy and working the concession stand, the group made money to have a pizza/dance party in February and to buy new tape and sound equipment.

Bands build spirit

The Clinton High School bands enjoyed another successful and prosperous year. The marching, jazz, concert, and pep bands were very busy helping build spirit in the school and community.

The marching band performed at the football pep assemblies and home games. Members marched in the DeWitt parade, Homecoming parade, and the Clinton and Farmer City Christmas parades.

The pep band also performed at the Clinton McDonald's opening, basketball pep assemblies and home games, and the boys' regional games.

The jazz band performed for one pep assembly, the Jazz Band Coffeehouse, the Chamber of Commerce Expo, Clinton Jr. High and Wapella High School, and the Jazz Band Cabaret.

The concert band performed a Christmas concert, held its annual Concert-a-thon, played a spring concert, took a trip to Nashville, Tennessee, and played at graduation.

Van Valey selected to design cover

The 1983-1984 Clintonia staff of twenty students was the largest staff in a long time. The theme of the 1984 yearbook is "Welcome To Our World." Jeff Van Valey was selected to design the cover.

In September the staff attended a conference at the U of I on yearbook changes. Staff members learned that dedications are out, captions are under group photos only, divider pages are placed on spreads, and generally themes are limited to opening and closing sections.

A number of these changes were incorporated in the 1984 Clintonia. The senior favorites were moved back to the senior section. The senior section was also divided into two sections.

Staff members sold over $3000 in advertising to help meet a budget of $9300.

Karol Thomas and Beth Tucker were chosen to co-edit the 1984 Clintonia.

Excalibur reverts to Margol

Members of the staff scan The Daily Pantagraph, Clinton Journal, and Decatur Herald & Review for feature ideas.

This year for the first time in seven years the Excalibur was changed back to its original name Margol. The staff consisted of seven journalists who put out the monthly paper. These students spent many Saturday mornings at the Journal office pasting up the copy. With such a small staff, the students got to spend most of their time on beats and futures. In addition to putting out the paper, students study journalism and are tested on current journalism techniques. Approximately four days per month are spent seeking advertising to cover the $250 per month cost of producing the Margol.

French Club makes plans for Quebec

With the money raised from monthly paper recycling, running the concession stand, and having car washes, members of the French club planned to fly to Quebec. Early in the school year they started making plans for the trip. The students anticipated using the French they learned in class in a French speaking environment. They also looked forward to sightseeing and enjoying the French cuisine.

D.O. Club organizes for banquet

D.O. Club members started their moneymaking activities in December with candy sales. On February 17 at a home basketball game against Olympia, the club members ran the Student Council concession stand. They also parked cars during the Regional Basketball tournaments on February 27, 28, and 29. An Employers' Banquet was scheduled for May 1. Members of Mr. Foster's club did all of the preparation and planning for event.

In the future years Mr. Foster hopes that the D.O. Club will get more involved at the national level. He would like to see his club be able to compete with other clubs around the nation.

Spirit in the Class of '85 was not limited to pep assemblies only. Candy sales earned $2000, and the juniors' enthusiastic float effort gained them an additional $200 for first place. They also organized and presented the traditional junior-senior prom and planned a summer money-making project to buy a monument for the sesquicentennial; 1985 is the 150th anniversary of the founding of Clinton.

Officers elected for the 1983-84 school year include Bob Case, president; Tina Allen, secretary; Nick North, treasurer; and Bruce Nixon, vice-president.

Knutson, Eddy see marked improvement

This year's freshman football team finished with a 5-4 record. Mr. Eddy was the head coach assisted by Mr. Urban. According to Coach Eddy the team improved over the entire season.

The sophomore team was coached by Mr. Schultz, who was the defensive coordinator, and Mr. Knutson, who led the offensive unit. The team finished with a 2-6 record. Like the freshman team, the sophomores showed improvement throughout the entire season.

Maroons enjoy a winning season

The Clinton Maroons enjoyed the first winning season since the fall of '71. The season started with a loss to Tolono Unity, but the Maroons came storming back with a win over Eureka. Next came the "surprising" victory over St. Theresa. Clinton's sweetest win came over Pontiac. The Maroons scored 51 points in this one. It was Pontiac's turn to face the long bus ride home. The Olympia Spartans were the next target of the team. "We were tired of playing homecoming games," said Goodwin of the win. The last game of the season was a special game for the seniors. The Pana Panthers were no match for the Clinton defense, who had allowed an average 15 points per game. This victory made the '83 season a winning one, with the final record 5-4.

This year's golf team consisted of seven players. Although the team won only one meet at Ottawa Marquette, 193-203, Scott Rowe and Brian Adcock went to boys' regionals at Stonington. Mary Beth Simmons went to girls' districts at ISU and girls' sectionals at Galesburg; she was also two-time girls' sectional qualifier. Mr. Burger comments, "This year we had a very young team, and we concentrated on individual improvement."

Harriers finish 14-1

The 1983 Cross-Country team, under the leadership of Coach Foster, finished the season 14-1. Highlights of the season include the following: the team won its own invitational on Oct 8, and on Oct 29 won the regionals for the second year in a row, and placed 8 out of 16 teams at the sectional at Mahomet on November 5.

This year is the first year there were enough girl harriers to make a girls' team. Although the girls' record was 0-3 this year, Coach Foster hopes the girls will continue to run and that he will have a team again next year.

Varsity defeats Mt. Zion

The highlight of the varsity volleyball team's season this year was a trouncing of the Mt. Zion Braves. Playing their best game of the year, the girls won in two games, 16-14 and 15-9. The girls ended their season with an 8-14 record.

The special awards went to Amy Olson, best spiker; Keri Cummings, best server; Stevi Boyum, best setter. Amy Olson was also chosen for the first team Corn-Belt All Conference.

Members of the junior varsity finished their season with an excellent record of 15-2. Their two upsetting losses were to Olympia and U-High.

Cheerleaders receive 3rd

During the summer the Varsity Cheerleaders went to ASCC, a cheerleading camp at Eastern Illinois University. The Varsity Cheerleaders received numerous awards. Among these awards were a "Reaching for that star" ribbon and two "The best" ribbons given during evaluation. On the last day of competition, the cheerleaders received third overall. They were judged on a pompon routine, a skit, stunts, jumps, chants and cheers. Even though happy with the results, the squad still wished they could have done a little better; they missed second place by half a point and first place by one and a half points.

This year the Sophomore and Freshman cheerleading squads combined to make one J. V. squad. The girls attended D.C.A. summer cheerleading camp at Eastern Illinois University. At camp the girls were awarded many excellent and superior ribbons. The squad also won the spirit stick three times. On the last day of camp, they received a superior ribbon for overall performance during the week. The J. V. squad received a superior ribbon.

Jeff Calvert grabs a rebound

Frosh-Soph teams show improvement.

After a slow start the freshman basketball team won 8 out of their last 9 games to finish with a record of 13 wins and 8 losses. The team finished second in the Maroa-Forsyth Freshman Tournament after losing a hard fought game against St. Teresa 60-58 in the championship game. The team's late season success was due to their intense defensive play and their working well together on offense.

Like the freshman squad, the sophomores also showed improvement throughout the season. Coach Blessing praised the inside play of Jeff Torbert and Jeff Calvert and the play of guards Joe Green and Mark Tedrick. He also noted the improvement of shooting from both the field and charity stripe.

The 1983-84 Clinton Maroons finished the season with a 9-17 overall record. Even though they were 0-10 in the Corn Belt Conference, Craig Duncan was named to all-conference for the first team. Highlights of the season were a second place at the Mahomet-Seymour Thanksgiving Tournament, a three-way tie for first at the Holiday Tournament, and upset victories over Warrensburg-Latham, Danville Schlarman, and Monticello.

At the Sports Banquet held on March 26, Ted Plunkett was honored with the most assists, Bruce Nixon with the most charges, Craig Duncan as the top free throw shooter, and Wally Hopper as the top rebounder.

Kiick coaches varsity

Head coach of the varsity girls' team is Debbie Kiick; junior varsity head coach and the varsity assistant coach is Karl Diener, a first year teacher as well as a first year coach. The junior varsity team consists of members from all four classes.

A big win of the J.V.'s was a 52-6 victory over Wapella and a 37-36 edge over U-High. The team closed the season 5-3 in the Corn Belt Conference.

The varsity team also consists of members of all classes. Wendy Staton is manager, and the score keeper is Dee Staton. The stats include Latonia Burton, Carol Williams, and Michelle Miller. The varsity team improved last year's record of 4-18 to a current 10-12. Amy Olson was named to the All-Conference first team, and Bridget Cyrulik and Michelle Harpenau were named to the second team. The girls played extremely well in the middle of the season, winning five games in a row against some very good teams.

Two freshmen had key varsity roles. Shannon Taylor was a varsity starter the last four games, and Tracy Matthews also saw a lot of varsity action. Equally important was Patty Schneider, a key varsity substitute.

State Qualifier

Tom Hawk gives a lesson on counting lights.

The 1983-84 wrestling team surprised both pre-season skeptics and Pontiac by winning the Corn Belt title for the first time in the history of the school. The Maroons finished the season at 14-10 with wins over Fairbury-Cropsey, St. Joe-Ogden, Warrensburg-Latham, Mt. Zion, Delavan, Olympia, Mt. Pulaski, Argenta-Oreanta, Kankakee, University High, Central Catholic, Petersburg-Porta, Pontiac, and Bishop MacNamara. The Maroons wrestled a tough schedule including the first, third, and sixth ranked teams in the state, Mahomet-Seymour, LeRoy, and Monticello respectively. They also faced top "AA" schools such as Lincoln, Urbana and Champaign Central, as well as several Regional Champs. Clinton also wrestled tough competition in the five tournaments, placing third at Clinton and Gibson City, fourth at Pontiac and first in the Conference. Coach Eddy's team also had a major disadvantage with freshmen and sophomores, who lacked wrestling experience on the Varsity level. On the whole Mr. Eddy was pleased with the effort put forth by several wrestlers, including seniors Kelly Rueger, Bryon Morlock, Shannon Milton, Tom Hawk, and Greg Tarbox; juniors Jeff Morlock, Bobby Case, and Bobby Alexander; and sophomore grapplers Jason Goett and State Qualifier Alan Lehman.

The Lettermen's Club, which has been inactive for several years, spent much of this year trying to reduce an outstanding debt. Early in '84 the east wall of the gymnasium was lettered to read "Home of the Maroons." Bob Case, Greg Tarbox, and Mr. Goodwin were the "artists in residence" for this project.

Mr. Goodwin hopes to get the club involved in several activities next year.

Varsity takes conference title

The varsity baseball team won the Corn Belt Conference this year. This was the first title won by a baseball team in several years at Clinton. Four members of the squad were chosen for all conference honors. They are Kelly Rueger, Mike Boyd, Scott Ellrick, and Cliff McClure.

The sophomore team didn't do quite as well, but they certainly showed signs of improvement. Coach Burger added five freshmen to the squad; they were able to help out considerably, but the sophomore members demonstrated their previous year's experience.

The freshmen felt the loss of their team members. After a slow start, the team picked up. As the season continued, the five freshmen that were playing on the sophomore team were brought down to help the squad out.

All in all, it was a fine year for baseball at C.H.S.

Hopper, Plunkett share track honors

Wally Hopper had a fantastic senior year. He missed going to State by one place at the Sectional meet. Wally high jumped, ran the 110 high hurdles, and was the anchor leg for two relays. He was also the track captain.

Ted Plunkett lowered his school record to 10:20 at the conference meet and also missed going to State by one place (less than 6").

Jeff Calvert, who lowered his mile time from 4:54 to 4:49, really worked hard this year.

Others who had a good season include Doug Benz, Ron Russell, Doug McDonald, and Robb Welton.

Two make state

The 1983-84 girls track team ended the year with a 3-16 record. Three school records were broken. Lynne Dyer placed 8th in sectionals in the discus throw and broke the school record with a 99'6" throw. In the 3200 meter run, Francis Bateson set a school record of 12:20 and went to state. Keri Punches set a new record of 1:02.09 and went to state in the 400 meter run and placed 5th in sectionals on the 200 meter run. The team placed 8th in sectionals. Mrs. Mahoney said the team overall was weak, but as individuals, they were strong.

Row 2: Mrs. Mahoney, Erika Motsinger, Francis Bateson, Julie VanValey, Carrie Harrold, Angie Moody, Wendy Staton, and Janice Cote. League champion CHS dominated the Corn Belt Conference for the second year in a row, but this time with a perfect 8 and 0 record. Shannon Taylor was the winning pitcher in all eight games.

The Maroons earned six unanimous selections onto the All Conference team: freshman pitcher Shannon Taylor, sophomore designated hitter Bonny Boyd, senior first baseman Bridget Cyrulik, senior third baseman Amy Olson, senior shortstop Mary Beth Simmons, and senior outfielder Angie Bush.

Girls repeat Conference win

Mr. Austin is the proud coach of the 1983-84 girls softball team.

The "M" squad, under the direction of Mrs. Marge Devore, started the year with a less than average sized squad of 18 girls. Hampered with the problems of three girls moving and several injuries, Mrs. Devore decided to expand the group by holding a second tryout. A total of seven girls tried out; six were accepted as new members. Kim Smith agreed to be an alternate.

New uniforms were purchased to change the look of the organization. The flashy new uniforms and glittery pompons put a sparkle into the sensational performances.

Hats off to the Maroons!

My name is Beatriz Martinez; I'm from Colombia. I live in Cali', it's a big city south of Colombia with 2,500,000 people. In my family there are five. My dad is a doctor; my mom is an architect. I have one brother; he's 15 years old and one sister, she's 13 years old. I'm 17 years old, and I finished high school in 1983.

My hobbies are painting, jazz, dance, playing tennis, and swimming. I like drama so I was in My name is Mette Norling, and I live in Denmark on a farm in the country, with my mother, father, and brother. Our family also has two horses, two dogs, and two cats. Even though we live on a farm, we are not farming it. My parents own a store, where they spend most of their time, as I have since I was twelve.

I spend most of my free time taking care of my horse, although in the summer I also spend much time playing tennis and swimming at the beach. For the last couple of years, I have

My name is Asa Ringqvist, and I'm a student from Sweden. In Sweden my family consists of my mother Elsa, who is a dentist; my sister Karin, 20; and my brother Toresten, 16. We live in a town on the west coast with 35,000 inhabitants. In Sweden I attend secondary school which prepares you for either university or work. I hope to some day become a physician, which was my father's profession.

In Sweden there isn't much time for interests after school if you want to have good grades. I usually spend my afternoons with studying. When I have time, I enjoy meeting with my

I graduated last year after nine years of school. I will not get any credits for my year as an exchange student here. After leaving here I am planning on attending a three year "high school" back in Denmark.

I have been in many different countries, but my stay here in the U.S.A. has been my greatest experience because I am here to be part of the country and its culture and not as a tourist. I have been having a really good time here.

Weekends, I might go out and eat or go dancing. I live near Sweden's second largest town and quite often I go down there to go shopping or just to enjoy myself.

In the United States I live with the Waddock family. My mom Jane, my dad Nick, and Jennifer are a wonderful family who have helped me out a lot.

Clintonia honors Foster

This yearbook is dedicated to a man who has given much of himself to our school. As a coach, he gives support to everyone on the team. He just doesn't coach the team—he is the team. As a teacher he shows concern for each student and is always willing to listen to a problem, no matter how insignificant it may seem.

It is obvious this man loves his job; and, in turn, the students respect him for this dedication. Mr. Tad Foster is a fine man both inside and out. We are proud to have this man as our teacher, our coach, and our friend.

The District's Vocational Director, Mr. Foster, came to CCHS in the fall of 1978. Prior to his teaching career, he was stationed at Chanute Air Force Base in Rantoul.

Mr. Foster, who is originally from Standish, Maine, lives in Kenney with his wife, Cathy, and their two children. A running enthusiast, Mr. Foster coaches both cross country and track, and for enjoyment participates in many local 10-K races.

Faculty

Welcome to our school

The faculty section of the 1983 Clintonia focused on people—their families, their hobbies, and their special times. This year the faculty section of "Welcome to our World" will focus on the school—the programs, the personnel, and the pride that administrators and faculty and staff members take in working with the students at CHS.

The 1983-84 school year was the first year following the North Central evaluation that took place in March 1983. Administratively, through each department the staff made an assessment of the evaluation and proceeded to identify those recommendations that were relevant and worthy of implementation. The implementation process yielded immediate results in some areas and in others, reasonable time lines for completion were established.

The administration has been reactive to the many national reports regarding the "state of the art" in education.

Superintendent Gary Archey

Board of Education members—Front Row: Stephen Tuggle, Walker Evans, and Ronald Bandy. Row 2: Jerome Gawthorp, John Eikenberg, Jane Waddock, and Dr. Harold Weinberg.

Inservice activities, publications, administrative handouts, and faculty meetings have focused on teacher effectiveness, curriculum, and other issues germane to the recent reports on education that have generated an increase in public interest and awareness. Efforts to establish an improvement capability have been discussed and plans for an effective maintenance and improvement program have tentatively been established. Areas identified as having an effect on improving outcomes in student achievement have been given specific attention in plans for evaluating current status and in formulated programs for fostering improvement.

The addition of Mr. McNary to the administrative staff has effectively filled a cavernous void created by Mr. Henry's departure. Mr. McNary has proven to be a real asset to the total program. He is knowledgeable, compassionate, capable, and highly student oriented.

The Mathematics Department added computer programming to the curriculum for the 1983-84 year. Five sections were taught each semester. Bruce Nixon and Ted Plunkett tied for first place in the annual MAA contest. The Math Department and the D.O. Class reviewed various micro computer programs that would provide career assessments and planning for students on an individual basis.

The Business Department is extremely proud of its acquisition of new, up-to-date equipment allocated by the School Board last summer. Purchased were 30 IBM Selectric typewriters to replace obsolete manual typewriters, three CPT word processors with a daisy wheel printer, and two IBM electronic typewriters. This acquisition enhances the department's ability to prepare students more adequately for the business world.

Mr. Stites with the members of his staff, Bonnie Sumner, Vi Green, and Sharon Miller.

The Guidance Department had conferences with over 90% of the ninth graders and their parents during the first nine weeks of school. Staff members also had conferences with juniors and their parents for planning senior year courses and mapping out post high school plans.

The JETS team received a first place trophy in Class A Division at the district contest held at Richland Community College. Ed Duran received third place in graphics, Debbie Armstrong received second place in English, and Ted Plunkett received first place in chemistry. The JETS team was then invited to the Regional contest at Charleston, where Ed Duran and Tom Hawk placed for state final competition in graphics.

The CHS Scholastic Bowl Team placed third in their first tournament competition at RCC. Todd Fatheree was named to the all school Scholastic Bowl team for his answering correctly many toss-up questions.

During the 1983-84 school year, the English Department incorporated a new class into its curriculum: gifted freshman English. Mrs. Neps volunteered to take the class and has constructed an excellent program which she will expand and develop for next year. Mrs. Wunderlich will extend the program with a gifted sophomore class next year. A project the department is excited about is the testing program which will measure students' abilities in writing and grammar. At present, the test is only in the planning stages but should be completed by the first semester of next year so that a pilot testing can be done with the sophomore class.

Principal John F. Perkins

Administrative Assistant/Athletic Director John E. Byrd

Assistant Principal John E. McNary

Through the cooperation, dedication, and effort of all staff members, the Physical Education Department has been able to offer the students a well rounded physical education program. Many units were taught and most students worked hard to improve their stats.

Mrs. Janet Sutherland

The Learning Disabilities classroom with its support personnel complement the regular instructional programs. The program provides essential skills classes, oral and written communication skills, organizational skills, and tutoring services in all courses.

In Memoriam of Harold Horn

Harold Horn was born March 3, 1921 at Clinton, Illinois. He married Mildred LaVon Cisco on March 27, 1943 at Clinton.

Harold graduated from Clinton High School in 1939. He played basketball at Douglas and Lincoln grade schools and played the lead in the high school play "Andy Hardy."

After his retirement in 1981, he started driving a school bus. He enjoyed the children and the new friends he made through the school system. Harold died on February 13, 1984; he was buried at Memorial Park. The varsity basketball players and Coach Byrd were honorary pall bearers.

One hundred and thirty-nine seniors walked across the stage to receive their diplomas the night of May 25, 1984.

Ed Marang gave the Invocation and Karol Thomas welcomed everyone and thanked them for coming out in the heavy rain and driving through the flash flooding in many areas. Next the band played "Invicta." For many seniors it was the last time to play in a band. John Hartness then gave the address on behalf of the senior class. The Senior Class Choir chose "The Greatest Love of All" by Creed/Master. This song made many realize the importance of this step: they really were graduating to face a new world. Amy Olson gave the remarks from the student council and told everyone to "Keep on Smilin'."

John Perkins then gave the message to the class; it included his hopes that members of the Class of 1984 would further their educations and lead full and happy lives. Mr. Gary Archey then presented the class; and as Mr. Steve Tuggle awarded the diplomas, the seniors each awarded him with a marble. Pastor Ed Hauser gave the Benediction, and the 139 seniors walked out to the traditional "Pomp and Circumstance."

Before

After

"Welcome to our World" was selected by 18 members of the staff to be the theme of the 1984 Clintonia.

We, the editors, were faced with many new decisions as the year progressed. Because of a scheduling conflict we were separated from the rest of the yearbook staff. Mrs. Wunderlich was therefore a coordinator between the two classes.

We tried to make the Clintonia unique. Senior favorites were taken in Woodlawn Cemetery with its unusual background; we also changed the order of the book by inserting a class between each activity and using gray background in different areas. We took great care in carrying the theme throughout the entire book including the division pages and closing. One of our main goals was to promote unity in the book by creating spreads, rather than individual pages. We also tried to get as many students as possible into the yearbook; but, as usual, some people were reluctant to be photographed.

In the fall of 1983, we came into the yearbook class only hoping to be a small part of the Clintonia staff. We were totally unaware as to what a signature, a flat, a colophon, folio tags, bleeding, spreads, die-cuts, and silk-screening really were. But, before the month was out, we were selected as co-editors. Once we accepted this responsibility, we really learned a great deal about journalism as well as how to deal with all kinds of people. "Welcome to our World" was an important part of our senior year, and an experience we will long remember.
